Why I Serve on the Board: While considering Middlebury, VT as a home for my family, I remember going to the co-op. While there, I looked around trying to find vegan and gluten-free cooking ingredients and looked through the wellness area. I realized even with a unique diet, I could find most of my needs at the co-op. Almost two years later, it still holds true. I choose to serve on the board to be an extended voice.

My favorite co-op item: THE PRODUCE! From the berries to cucumbers, to kale, and more. We love it all and it's evident given how quickly it goes in our house.

About me: I am a Middlebury resident and a mother to two beautiful souls. We are a vegan family. As a woman who has endured her share of gut issues, finding a place with local and natural options is important to me. We are new to the community but in a short amount of time have fallen in love with the community and the co-op.
